

OVERVIEW

Revelation 22:7–21 ends the Bible with Jesus' promise, "I am coming soon," calling believers to live in faithful obedience and hopeful expectation. It offers a final invitation to come to Him and reminds us that all of history rests in His grace.

OHANA TIME!

 Icebreaker: What's one thing God has done this year that you're especially grateful for? Or What's one Thanksgiving dish you're always thankful someone else makes—but you never want to attempt yourself?

 Activity: Plan a get-together with one another during the break!

PRAYER

Pray: "Lord Jesus, deepen our longing for Your coming and fill us with grace, obedience, and hope as we wait for You. Amen"

BIBLE: READ REVELATION 22:7-21

1. Three times Jesus says, "I am coming soon." Where do you see these repetitions in the passage? Why might this emphasis be significant?
2. What does "Blessed is the one who keeps the words of the prophecy of this book" (v. 7) mean in practical terms? What does "keeping" look like?
3. Why does John fall to worship the angel (vv. 8–9)? What does the angel's correction teach about true worship?
4. What contrasts do you notice in verses 11–15 (ex. holy/unholy)?
5. In verse 16, Jesus calls Himself "the Root and the Offspring of David, the bright Morning Star." What does each title reveal about who Jesus is?
6. Verse 17 contains a triple invitation ("The Spirit and the Bride say, 'Come!'"). Who is being invited? What responses are expected?

APPLICATION

1. When you hear Jesus say, "I am coming soon," what emotions or thoughts arise—comfort, urgency, confusion, longing, fear? Why?
2. Are there choices or areas of life (v. 11) where you sense Jesus calling you toward greater holiness or faithfulness as you wait for His coming?
3. The Spirit and the Bride invite people to "Come." How does your life—your words, habits, prayers, relationships—extend that same invitation?

Ohana Discussion Questions will be on break from November 30th through January 3rd (5 Weeks).
