

In God's Economy, He Is Generous

Matthew 20:1-16

July 26, 2026

9am & 10:45am Services

Pastor Kendal Fong

"So the last will be first, and the first will be last"

Matthew 20:16

O Lord, you are always so generous to me. You bless me through and through but the biggest blessing is that of your Son Jesus Christ, who died for my sins. Your grace is a gift that I shouldn't take for granted. Please forgive me when I cheapen this grace and make my life about me.

Please forgive me when I have not looked to You and have become envious, jealous, resentful or in any way self serving with situations in my life. Help me to remember always that your grace is a gift, not rewarded on any of my effort, merit or seniority. Your economy is completely different from mine but I know it is always the best. Help me to remember that "the last will be first and first will be last" and to know that being Your servant is the greatest title You bestow upon me.

In the Mighty Name of Jesus, Amen!

Application:

- How does Matthew 20:16 apply to you in your life right now?
- Where do I see that God has been generous to me? How do you thank Him in each of these things?
- What areas in my life do I need to surrender to Christ?